BIO

More than what meets the eye, this Miami based rapper quickly gained attention for her unique look and commanding presence. But for Pretty Porcelain, it's her preppy flow, and lyrics that commands you. Born Shetterria Heaven Elliott, the daughter of Sherria and Terry Elliott, Sr., founder of the World-Famous King of Diamonds, Pretty Porcelain found that several factors would shape her reality.

Recounting her childhood years, she describes growing up with albinism "far from easy", and has endured a number of "trials and tribulations". In spite of that, having signed to Supa T Records, the trending rapper saw her hit single STOP PLAYING WITH ME rack up over 200k views in it's first 10 days. "I'm Blessed", she adds.

Her musical style is crossover, sassy, and unique with a little dash of hood. "Growing up in the entertainment industry, I learned to appreciate all genres of music with two of my most influential rappers being Tupac Shakur and Lil' Wayne," she shared. Priding her lyrical wit as real and raw, Pretty Porcelain makes music that empowers fans to embrace their individuality, and make a lane of their own.

The Albinism Advocate, who skyrocketed to international stardom as a model, has just released her debut EP titled "I'm Really Not a Rapper," and her single "Feisty" recently achieved the impressive feat of trending at #31 on Instagram's sound chart. With a series of singles in the pipeline, Pretty Porcelain is gearing up to expand her musical career, leaving fans eagerly anticipating more chart-topping hits
